

Ethics lesson - Union Bulletin edit

Divide the class into groups of five to discuss the Washington Post articles and the examples they found. Questions they might address include:

Students' responses:

1 --Do you agree or disagree with the stance that whoever pays for the publication is the one who should determine content?

2 --Should the students establish their own independent paper?

3 --Respond to the comment that the right to "defend their act of civic disobedience as a First Amendment right is faulty."
