Have students go to Vox.com and who we are to examine several Vox stories and read about the Vox concept. Questions they might address include:

Students' responses:

1 --What does Vox say about the purpose of its approach? Why does it work? How does it work?

2 --Do students think it works? Why? Why not?

3 --Are the Vox stories complete? Cohesive? Reliable? Verifiable? Accurate?

4 --Who or what are the sources, and what does that lead you to ask about the information? How well do they use multiplatform materials?

5 --If you were to adapt Vox, what would you chose to to use, not to use?
